

What are the benefits of registering with the RCCP?

High standards: being on the RCCP's register is a sign of your professionalism and the fact that you meet recognised national standards. Our register is publicly accessible to everyone, which means potential employers and patients can search for you to assure themselves of your probity.

Networking: Opportunities for networking with over 6,000 fellow clinical physiologists and other professionals are provided and hosted by the RCCP all year long.

Political influence: The RCCP was established to lobby on behalf of the profession to ensure that the voices of clinical physiologists across the six disciplines are heard by key decision makers in the UK government in the four nations of England, Wales, Northern Ireland and Scotland. RCCP holds regular discussions with ministers, parliamentarians and policymakers and our expertise informs the work of organisations such as the House of Commons Health Select Committee. Our recent work includes the campaign for statutory regulation for clinical physiologists.
